The purpose of sign regulation is to ensure that signs effectively direct the public to business, residential and public uses, without adversely affecting public safety or the small town character of Ridgefield. The sign permitting process is a procedure that allows review and enforcement of code standards to protect and improve the economic, aesthetic and social qualities of the City.

Information on the number of signs, the sizes, and sign types, is located in RDC Chapter 18.710. There are three categories of signs: (1) prohibited signs; (2) signs unrestricted by zoning, and (3) signs controlled by zoning district. The Planning Director will review the application and render a decision within 15 working days. (RDC 18.710.030.C).
